

Independent Bookstores

This list of bookstores likely to be interested in self-published and/or artist-made books was selected from publisher's websites (stock-lists of vendors who carry their books), bookstores that are exhibitors at photobook festivals and fairs, photo-eye bookstores' "Publisher's Showcase" and other sources. Not all independent bookstores can carry books that require special handling or additional security, nor can they consign a single book from an author. While most independent bookstores carry a broad inventory, some have strong interests in photobooks.

Specialty photobook stores like photo-eye in Santa Fe, NM, carry all types of photobooks from trade, small press, to self-published and limited editions. In contrast, 23 Sandy Gallery, also in Santa Fe, specializes in artist-made limited edition and unique artist's books. While some books may be of interest to both vendors, their preferences reflect the size of their target audiences.

Other examples of specialty photobook stores are Dashwood Books (NYC) and Baltimore Photo Space (Maryland).

Most specialty photobook stores are brick-and-mortar retail operations while others such as www.photobookstore.co.uk operate online only. You can assess the audience of a book vendor by looking carefully at their inventory or catalog on their website or visiting their booth at photobook fairs. If you want them to carry or "consign" your book, look for their "Submissions" guidelines on their website.
